2024 FUEL OIL RAFFLE

had 84 scouts, 29 adults, and 54 staff members attend Summer Camp and 105. The nearly 1.5-to-1 ratio between campers and staff, allowed for some great experiences. New this year, was a 3-D archery range for the scouts to test their skills on. A big thank you to members of the Great Alaska Council, who came up to help out this year! Partnering with GAC allowed us to have more in-state staff, saving us airfare costs. Their experience and knowledge went a long way in supplementing our normal offerings. On Wednesday, we held family night and our Board meeting. Tommy G's supplied our main course - prime rib, to add to the celebrations. During the same day, the National Camp Accreditation Team visited and assessed our administration, program and facilities. We passed and are once again a Nationally Accredited camp. Below is a link to a 2-minute video that highlights our 2024 Summer Camp season and can be used for camp promotion for 2025.

Thank you for Troops 56 and 65 for adopting the Anaktuvuk campsite and for building its pavilion. The campsite is looking great and has already seen quite a bit of use.

Sparrowhawk Pavilion Reborn

After the winter's snow caused the pavilion at Sparrowhawk to collapse, Troops 56 and 65 jumped right in and rebuilt it! They showed their scouts how to measure, measure again, then cut wood to the proper specs. They were taught how to stabilize the framework as

Northern Lights High Adventure (NLHA)

The high adventure base wrapped up earlier this month, when our last trek headed out to Denali. We had a total of 105 participants and 12 staff members.

A special thank you to Linda Hill and Tasmine Stebbins for assisting with driving. A very special thank you to GAC for allowing us to rent three of their 15-passenger vans this year and to Tammy Illguth for letting us use her van as well for one of the treks.

We served scouts from Maryland, Colorado, Texas, Massachusetts, Michigan, and California. One unit told me that they offered their troop 3 different options - the Summit, Northern Tier, and NLHA - and their troop overwhelmingly chose to come to Alaska.

The Northern Lights High Adventure Base was also acknowledged as a Nationally Accredited camp.

the roof was hoisted up and set in place. Then they helped to connect everything. What remained after all of their hard work, was a wonderful new pavilion.

Thank you, Troops 56, and 65!

Troop 487, Alvin, Texas

Troop 487 from Alvin, Texas came up for a few days before attending Lost Lake for their summer camp experience. They camped at Chena Lakes, before heading to Lost Lake. While in North Pole, they visited the world-famous Santa Claus House and took a day trip to Denali National Park. While at Lost Lake, they enjoyed our various programs, earned merit badges, and created memories that will last a lifetime.

Iceland

While we had an exciting summer full of Scouting activities locally, we sent a contingent of 6 scouts and 5 adults to attend the Iceland National Jamboree.

The scouts had a wonderful time enjoying the activities and scenery (read all about it further below).

They represented our Council well on an international level, made new friends, and traded patches. Rumor has it that they were invited to go to a National Jamboree in Denmark.

Help Needed - Canoe Fund!

We'd like to give our scouts the opportunity to enjoy their summer experiences a little more comfortably and with better equipment. To that end, we are looking to replace some canoes and begin a swap out program going forward. Some of our canoes are getting pretty old and have been well used.

Please help us in getting the word out to any business owners and community groups that you are affiliated with, using the Canoe Fund Form \(click here to view/download\)

We will start up a temporarily restricted fund to put donations in, in order to purchase canoes and other aquatic equipment (row boats, paddles, oars, lifejackets, etc.), after we have raised enough money to do so. Any remaining money will be kept in the fund to be used for future change outs, and we plan on building the fund over time. If a business, service club, or family would like to donate a full $1,500, we will gladly recognize them in an appropriate manner, including a mention in our newsletter. The manner of recognition is yet to be determined.

We would like to purchase a minimum of 6 canoes before next season as our immediate concern. Who would like to join me in making a donation towards this worthy cause?

Checks can be made out to Midnight Sun Council and mailed to 1400 Gillam Way, Fairbanks, AK 99701. We also can take credit card payments over the phone at (907) 452 1976.

They also are hoping to have a few tables with fun activities for kids as well.

This is just another option of support which allows Alaskan residents to pledge and pay a portion of their Permanent Fund Dividend (PFD) in support of the youth, volunteers, and Scouting. Elections can be made until August 31, 2024.

Cub's Biking Adventure

The district offered two events using the new biking adventures over the summer. Robin and Chelsea from Pack 6 set up an event where Cubs could complete all or most of their requirements.

Special thanks to Robin, Chelsea, Volunteers in Policing (Fairbanks) and Beaver Sports. Last weekend Amanda and Sue from Troop 1 offered the opportunity for Webelos and Arrow of Lights to complete the riding portion of the adventure. It turned out to be a beautiful day and all the Cubs finished their 5- or 10-mile ride.

NOAC

The National Order Arrow of the Conference (NOAC) was held July 29-August 2, 2024, in Boulder, CO. The theme for NOAC 2024 was "Seeking New Heights".

Toontuk Lodge had a six-member contingent attend. Our contingent included James Hill (Lodge Chief), Sam Lentz (Vice Chief), Ayden Foor, Oskar Cooper, Matt Cooper and Linda Hill. While in Colorado, our contingent participated in some fun activities before NOAC started. They went to an Air and Space Museum, the zoo, on a hike and to a water/amusement park.

While at NOAC, Toontuk Lodge participated in a various amount of training and events and enjoyed nightly shows. The shows while entertaining and enjoyable, also, were a time of learning. Activities at NAOC included, the Goodman Edson Observatory Museum, Arrowment Conservation Education & Sustainability (ACES) Village, Lodge & Section Leadership Reception just to name a few. Training was offered for Patch Design, National Council of Chiefs (NCOC)-both adult and youth, and Leadership Styles plus many others. The last day was a day of fun culminating with The Elevate Festival. The festival was, also, a time to see what other lodges offer.

Toontuk Lodge met people from all over the U.S., and even Arrowmen that traveled from Lodges overseas and befriended many. There was a Section get-together that they attended along with Boulder Bash. Boulder Bash was a time of camaraderie and community. While there, we did plenty of patch trading. Members of our contingent came back with many patches from lodges across the U.S. NOAC offered plenty of opportunities for training and fun. Our contingent members came back with fond memories and ambitions for their future in 'Seeking New Heights'.

Icelandic National Jamboree

A small group of Scouts recently returned from a big trip after visiting Iceland and participating in the Icelandic National Jamboree at Úlfjótuvatn. The weeklong event hosted not only the local Icelandic scouting organizations, but included scouts from all over the globe, outnumbering the island resident participants and aptly themed Different Worlds.

As an Assistant Scoutmaster and father of a scout I had the wonderful opportunity to witness the growth and experience of our youth firsthand as they traveled into the unknown like the explorers of old. These are my observations.

The children, who range in age from 12 to 15, represented Troop 20, Troop 38B, and Troop 38G respectively, all from the greater Fairbanks area of the Midnight Sun Council. They spent a week exploring the capital city of Reykjavík and the surrounding area before the official start of the Jamboree. They tasted some traditional Icelandic cuisine including Hákarl, which is made from Greenland or basking sharks undergoing a rotting and curing process. They experienced white water rafting along the beautiful glacial river Hvítá, the White River, full of thrills and spills. Another day was spent horseback riding along the lava fields. "My favorite single thing there was the Icelandic ponies," said Ethan, who spent considerable time trying to convince his dad to bring the handsome brown and blonde pony back to Alaska. The answer was of course no, but with the added fact that once an Icelandic pony leaves the island nation it cannot return, one of the safeguards against disease necessary for such isolated livestock. Other favorites included the waterfalls and geysers found on the Golden Circle tour, including a walk through the rift between the North American and European tectonic plates. The rain falling during the week of the Jamboree did little to dampen spirits as well over 2500 campers came together in celebration. A group from Denmark camped alongside the Alaskans and quickly became friends, going so far as to combine their dining areas and kitchen. The Danish scouts sported light blue knitted hats, making them easy to pick out in the crowds and became a chant from their Alaskan supporters during a volleyball tournament. "Let's go Blue Hats!" echoed from Clara and others as they cheered the Danes to a tournament championship. The Alaskan Scouts managed to complete all the requirements for the individual element badges as well as the "World Sheep" award, conquering the tallest climbing wall in Iceland, obstacle courses over land and water, and even a BMX course along the way.

The five adults on the group also emersed themselves into the Jamboree, Craig becoming the head chef to ensure the Scouts had every opportunity to engage in the activities around the clock, while Amy, Matt, Jamie, and James were enlisted into the ranks of volunteers working the concessions and merchandise stands in the center of camp. When the week had concluded it was marked by live music that played late into the night with throngs of dancing Scouts at the close of the festivities. The next day the camp emptied out, leaving the Alaskans alone in the field they occupied for two weeks. The Scoutmasters set up a final surprise, having the group leave the campsite a few hours early so they could partake in a photo shoot as Vikings before boarding the plane bound for Seattle and then home.

As I marvel at the table full of patches, neckerchiefs, polo shirts, and even a Hong Kong contingent sweatshirt my son had traded for during his time in Iceland I couldn't help but think that this impressive pile of treasure paled in comparison to the once in a lifetime experience shared with him. I watched him tackle the unknown in a foreign land, the farthest he had ever travelled from home, and he thrived with his fellow scouts engaging with other likeminded souls from so many different nations. This is what it was all about.

What adventures will the next international scouting opportunity bring?

James Johnson
Assistant Scoutmaster
Troop 38B

Youth Protection Training (YPT)

As part of the BSA's goal to become the National Leader in Youth Safety there are some changes coming to Youth Protection Training. The Unit Key-3 will no longer be able to edit the YPT dates. As of March 4th, 2024, the BSA will be requiring that the Criminal Background Check is completed before you can become an active adult leader.

Units that are rechartering, should encourage their leadership to check on and update their YPT if it has been at least a year since they last completed it. Remember that this can be done individually or the leadership can set up a training date for their unit to complete it all at the same time. Please remember that if your unit does their Youth Protection Training as a unit to turn in a Training Attendance report to the Council with the updated information. This form is available at the Council office, and can be picked up or emailed to you.

As a reminder the Midnight Sun Council requires our adult leaders and merit badge counselors to complete their YPT yearly.

Please check your YPT training as some members are past the one year date required by the Midnight Sun Council.
